

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. You can search through the full text of this book on the web at http://books.google.com/

We have tried to display,
And we've been quite impartial,
We're sure you will say.

THE WAIL OF THE UPPER CLASSMAN.

You may study the Bible, the germs or the times,
You may try your young hand on essays or rhymes,
You may act out great Shakespeare, but—aye! here's the rub,
Each one of these things must be done in a club.
Now in clubs you will gain the courage you lack,
In clubs you won't notice those thrills down your back,
For original thought, debate and expression,
Are best taught in this way,—'tis a valuable lesson.

It is true you've all joined them—a dozen or so,
How much you regret it, you very well know,
For, whenever you think you can take a day off,
Some poor harassed leader comes up. With a cough
Of apology murmurs: "I know it's a shame
To ask you again, but I'm not to blame.
Blank goes to New York. Now won't you do her share?
Just a five minute paper! You know you don't care!"

Oh! the value of clubs is far beyond story,
They lead on fair woman from glory to glory;
But here let me quote, though under my breath,
The college young woman is about "clubbed to death."

ORGANIZATIONS

SENIOR EDITORIAL.

Ten twenty-nine on Monday morn
The swing doors open fly,
A short, quick step, a tall silk hat,
And Prexy marches by
Into the closet where he hides himself from prying eye.

Ten thirty—shades of Kant and Bain, Of Spencer and of Paley, With halting pen the cudgelled brain Is writing out its daily.

Good lack! Who is it advocates the ghost and chief so gaily?

Ten thirty-three—"Your papers, please;
And what is this I hear—
Extras in Ethics work you hard?
It does not so appear,
For nothing extra in your work
has struck me yet this year!"

Ten forty—room at boiling point,
"We have a thermostat,
Procured at great expense. And so
We never can get hot.

If 'twer'n't for that we might suppose we are when we are not."

Ten forty-five—"John Stuart Mill Was no mean thinker—stop, Excuse me, but was that a seat That I just now heard drop? I ask, because I ordered Mr. D. to bring a prop."

Eleven—"Now the bubble we Here vitally will prick, Can moral from immoral come? Ay, that is where we stick.

Can man his conscience like potatoes grow, and just as quick?"

Eleven ten—all are convinced,
There's not a skeptic more,
The one belief that's possible
Is Theory Number Four,
And arguments to prove it—
why, they spring up by the score.

Elev'n fifteen—the will is free And law is all revealed.
'Tis never right to tell a lie,
The doom of Bain is sealed,
What more is necessary when the mind with these is steeled?

Eleven twenty—list, the gong!
And ev'ry virtuous maid
Starts toward the door with eager step
And manner hardly staid.
Out, out, they bolt, while Prexy stands half puzzled, half afraid.

JUNIOR EDITORIAL.

The object of my verse
Is the sorrows to rehearse
Of a Junior course that's very, very queer.
The Professor's really kind,
But he's apt to change his mind;
And you have a different text-book every year.

Again he shifts his aims,
Now he seems to fancy James;
Mr. Baldwin's fallen into deep disgrace;
His value now is null,
For the market's very dull,
And you cannot sell a copy in the place.

This James expounds a creed
Which is very queer indeed,—
In short, we're sure the man is going daft.
It's not because your gay
That you laugh and smile,—oh nay!
You are happy only after you have laughed.

But to fill our minds with stuff
This James is not enough,
So our Prof. most kindly adds a little more.
He discourses days and days
In a voice not quite a bass
On Descartes, Spinoza and another score.

We have learned about our brain
Just how much it can contain;
And that babies' minds are blank, he doth assert.
And we know it must be true,
For in short 'twixt me and you,
On infants' minds he's now a great expert.

SOPHOMORE EDITORIAL.

Should you ask me whence these note books, Whence these text books and these lab. notes, With the odors of the sulfids, With the references to history, With the a posteriori, And the premise and conclusion,

I would answer, I would show you. Come with me at the third hour, Hurry to the laboratory; Take your seat and wait there trembling While a pack of cards is shuffled, Till you hear your turn approaching, Hear your name and hear a question, And you feel those black eyes on you, Feel a blacker void around you, Feel the blackest despair in you.

Come with me in early morning To the basement of the new hall; See the fair haired walking teacher, As she walks the class room over, While she speaks of the deep logic, While she gives the morrow's lesson, Twenty books to read assigns them, Analyze and read them over.

Come with me at the next hour, Hear the mighty new man teacher, Him who plays upon the organ,

Plays such waltzes and such two-steps; So he strums upon the table In his nervous agitation,—
"Stop," he cries, "for I am thirsty;"
Then again he speaks and gently,
"Will a maiden bring me quickly
Some cold water in a tumbler?"

Thus they live, these Sofomoowas, In the sunny morning hours, In the afternoon so dreary, In the evening by the Welsbach.

FRESHMAN EDITORIAL.

Thirty laughing Freshmen
Trooping into A;
One sedate instructor
Waiting for the fray.

Thirty naughty Freshmen
Fudges made last night.
At the simplest question,
Freshmen none too bright.

"Come, young ladies, answer,
This will never do;"
Silence grows intenser,—
Sad it is, but true.

One of them—the bravest—
Thinks that she will bluff,
But for this instructor,
"Bluff" is not enough.

"To your rooms now hasten,
There your lesson learn!
And when that you've mastered,
Then I may return."

Thirty downcast Freshmen
Walking home agree,
Mathematics isn't
All it ought to be.

We can do the six-foot vault,
And can turn a somersault;
In the broad jump we shall take the lead, we hope,
But for what we most aspire
Is a good big blazing fire,
When we'll show the world how we come down the rope.

DEDICATORY HYMN.

F. L. M'KINNEY.

Lord, we praise Thee, we adore Thee,
All great blessings come from Thee;
In the wisdom of Thy glory
Thou hast made Thy bounties free.
Come we with devout thanksgiving
For Thy light upon our way,
For the life that we are living,
For the blessings of this day.

Lord, these walls are but Thy making,
By Thy wisdom they were planned,
Living form, from lifeless waking,
Guiding true the builder's hand.
Father, make this place immortal,
Fill these empty rooms with light,
Those who enter at this portal—
Make them worthy in Thy sight.

On this day of dedication

Bless this mortal work of ours,

By Thy holy consecration

Give it truer, nobler powers;

And within this human temple,

Struggling ever nearer Thee,

We shall learn the truth eternal,

And the truth shall make us free.

ODE.

ANNA GERTRUDE RICHEY.

Listen! for a song is breaking;
Down the ages, echoes ring;
Grecian maidens, merry-making,
Lightly dancing, gaily sing;
Wind-blown draperies are flowing,
Curling backward in the breeze;
Nature is with rapture glowing,
Laughing through the rustling trees.
Sing, ye choirs, for Art is born,
In the world's gay, roseate morn.

Kyrie eleïson!
Kyrie eleïson!
Kyrie eleïson!
Listen! holy strains are pealing;
In the calm of twilight dim,
Sisters, eyes cast down, are kneeling,
Chanting sweet the vesper hymn,
Sing, ye choirs, and be your theme
Holiness and joy supreme.

Listen still! How near the song,
Loud and ever louder growing,
Swelled now by a countless throng,
Courage, culture, life bestowing.
Modern maids their steps are turning
Toward the stately college hall;
They are seeking, searching, yearning,
For the Truth that lies in all.
Sing, ye choirs, of Truth ne'er fading,
All-enduring, all-pervading.

Sing then, ye choir, and ever in your singing
Beauty and Goodness and Truth extol;
Send ye the song till Heaven, in answer ringing,
Resounds with shout triumphant from pole to pole.

VALENTINE'S DAY.

February 14.

To Prince Karl.

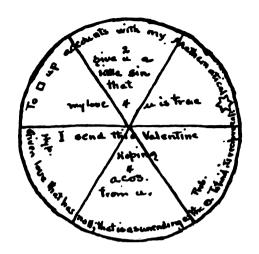

Mein love is a German Officier, Mit golden haar und brows of jet, He bears a schöne scarlet rock, Und a flashend sword already yet. Sein hertz is mit a princess fine, He never sees the student low Who pens this sehr geinedrig line And begs a smile just once also.

To Nelliomycetes.

Oh, what shall I call you, my Alga?
No name is quite suited to thee,
My own little dear Protococcus,
My Fungus, my Pteris, my Tree!

Oh, give me just one good cross section
Of your nice purely-cultured young heart.
Oh, come be a parasite, angel,
That thus we may never more part.

TO J.

I thought I saw a shiver cold
A-running down my neck,
On looking closer then I found
It was Jane's intellect.
I thought I saw an elephant
A sitting on a stile,
Again I gazed and then I saw
That it was dear Jane's smile.

Oh! I am like the litmus, dear,—
A drop of frown from you
Will at that very instant, dear,
Make me violently blue.
I trust that a reaction, dear,
Will melt your marble heart;
If not I'll turn the faucet
And give the tears a start.
Your love is too dilute, dear,
It will not yet combine;
Oh, strengthen it a little
And be my Valentine.

ELECTIONS.

Last year we voted for President of the United States and helped to place William McKinley in the Presidential chair. This year '98 again cast their votes in a more vital issue, and with striking impartiality and perception they place on record the names which appear below:

The Most Popular Girl in '98-P. A. Hatfield.

The Prettiest Girl-G. M. Garvin.

The Lasiest Girl—A. Macfarlane, though the winner here did not get an entirely unanimous vote. There were several others in the field, who proved to be no mean rivals. In the front rank stands H. Mount.

Jolliest Girl—There seemed to be some confusion in the minds of the voters between the terms "jolliest" and "noisiest," but that they are not synonomous expressions, the final result of the vote which elected L. G. Eddy for the place sufficiently proves.

The Noisiest Girl—Slangily speaking, the noisiest girl is a "good many". By the votes of long-suffering neighbors, many girls, hitherto regarded as peaceable and law-abiding citizens, have been shown up in their proper colors. The proud distinction of having the greatest number of neighbors belongs to E. C. Ward, but, lest she be unduly puffed up at this honor, be it known that her majority was exceeding small.

The Best Dressed Girl-A. Kauffman.

The Faculty Favorite—P. A. Hatfield again carries off the palm. That the same individual should be dear to gods and men argues hopefully as to the harmony of feeling between the Olympians and the mortals.

The Cheekiest Girl—Scattering vote. Sixteen candidates. Depends on who lives near you.

The Greatest Talker—These questions have brought to light many hitherto unknown facts, but the most surprising is that N. Bean talks more than any other girl in the class. The surprise is not that she talks much—any one sitting at or near the first Senior table knows that—but that she received a huge majority over such able rivals as J. Marsh, E. B. Wilkerson, S. F. Sheppard and A. H. Stone.

The Best "Bluffer"—Everything in the world depends, as is well known, on the point of view. Were we in the position of some of our respected professors, there are possibilities that the results of this vote might have been different, but from the standpoint of her classmates, who have watched with secret envy the repeated success of this young woman's "bluffing", A. H. Stone steps, by right, to the pinnacle reserved for the most daring, the most artistic, and the most successful "bluffer".

The "Freshest" in Freshman Year—The memories of the class do not seem to reach back over such a stretch of time and change. Misty visions of pigtails, short dresses, and creaking seats in the chapel gallery still haunt '98's mind, but very dimly. Nine different names were balloted for—sufficient proof in itself that '98 has forgotten infantile errors, has put away childish things.

The Girl Who Would Be First Taken for a Senior—The vote proves what '98, of course, knew before, that we all make ideal Seniors. But the girl who leads the Seniors out of chapel, who headed the Sophomore Play, and who safely steered the Vassarion Board through shoals of doubt and despair, leads off again here as the most typical and most dignified Senior.

The Most Popular Professor in College—It is always flattering to human nature when popular choice confirms private opinions. Reflect, then, on the feelings of the Vassarion Board, when '98 as a class voted Professor Van Ingen the most popular of our Faculty, thus, all unknowing, expressing its approval of our course in dedicating to him '98's Senior publication.

The Hardest to Take Notes From—Upon this point the class spoke as with one voice, and cried with loud and emphatic acclaim—Dr. Bickford. Where analyses but serve to mislead, where the same classification is given every day from a different book, and where animals of amazing and intangible proportions appear and disappear like dissolving views, and, to add insult to injury, where the lecture notes may (must) be handed in at the end of the semester, where is this except in the Biology department?

The Most Inspiring Teacher-Professor Salmon.

The Professor Who Gives Most Cuts—Since Miss Sweet has gone, there is really no one among the Faculty or instructors who deserves even honorable mention for giving cuts. Many of the class could not remember ever having a cut. The pathos of this must strike even the most regular of instructors, and we hope for a marked improvement in the matter next year.

The Greatest Social Success—After many years' practice at Christian Reception, Sophomore Parties and Founder's Day, the social ability of the Faculty can scarcely be doubted. That Dr. Moore is considered to excel all the rest is therefore a great honor. It is sometimes difficult to define wherein social success lies, but in this case it is undoubtedly due to Dr. Moore's great ease of manner. A large vote was also given to Miss Leach, and Dr. Mills received one, because, the voter stated, "he has reduced social success to a science."

The Most Learned Professor-Professor Dwight.

The Hardest to Recite to The Easiest to Recite to Dr. Mills. If, as philosophers assert, contraries cannot be true, what are we to think of such a result? As an explanation to this striking phenomenon, we suggest the interest which the wall or the ceiling may chance to inspire in that learned mind at the moment of recitation.

The Professor Who Writes Most Illegibly—The students of English rallied gallantly around their leader, and, after a short but violent campaign, conquered. Those notices on many Bulletin boards, and those friendly notes mistaken for "flunks" have not been without effect.

The Handsomest Professor-Dr. Thelberg.

The Happiest Hour in College—The Editor's chair was shocked and pained to find that '98 has decided with an almost unanimous vote that the happiest hour in college is the hour of going to bed. We are only partly redeemed by a few devout souls, who prefer Sunday morning to all other times. Sentimentality is also represented by a few maidens, who are happiest when the mail arrives.

The Most Miserable Hour in College—Since, by common consent, 7 A. M. is the most miserable hour in college, the appearance of bright and smiling faces at the Senior tables at 7.30 A. M. betokens a triumph of mind over matter.

The Poorest Dish in College—Is it necessary to publish the result of this vote? The answers vary only slightly, according to the conjectures as to the ingredients of the dish. They say "a little veal, a little ham, a little chicken," "veal bob," "veal creamed stew," but what they refer to is all too evident.

The Favorite Text Book—Baldwin's Psychology and Lodge's European History are struggling for the first place in '98's affections. Warner's "American Charities" is truly praised on the ground, that, in this case, you can recite the lesson without reading it over. Even after our study of Ethics and the Will, we must assert that some of our class are in a state of equipoise or indifference.

The Favorite Course.—The vote on this seemingly natural question was unduly small, but far from united. Unbounded astonishment, however, resulted in the case of a pronounced man-hater, who unwittingly recorded "Romanticism" as her favorite course. It is impossible to conceal any longer the hold that athletics have gained over the feminine heart, since—shades of the founder!—the favorite course of a significant number of students is the race course. One single redeeming feature is that, in the eyes of two members of our class, Sophomore's History is the ideal course. Our faith in the future career of those untiring mortals is built upon a rock.

Is "Bluffing" Right?—With ill-disguised shame, the Vassarion Board announces that, save for two morally honest persons, the entire class of '98 believes in this nefarious practice; and the pitiable fact stares us in the face, that these two righteous ones have a very rational ground for their convictions. They can't bluff—we've seen them try it. We feel that when this fact is known to the Faculty, our brilliant recitations may not receive their wonted commendation; we feel that we may fall in the estimation of many whom we honor, we feel that even our diplomas may be endangered, and yet the memory of those lectures in Ethics is still green, and realizing that it is not right to lie, we continue in the course of honesty and impartiality which we have pursued throughout this volume.

Is It Right to Take College Milk and Butter for Fudges?—The Ethical principles of '98 are somewhat varied as regards the taking of college milk and butter for fudges, despite the wide and excellent training they received in Freshman year. A classification may be made as follows:

- 1. Utilitarians:
 - (a) "Fudges can't be made without them."
 - (b) Economy.
 - (c) "Conduces to greatest happiness of the greatest number."
 - (d) Can't get enough to eat any other way.
- 2. Stoics:

These abstain from hygienic principles.

3. Fanatics:

Believe it's wicked.

He stuffs in the biscuit,
But just why he missed it,
He can't, for the life of him, show.

With such a wife, who'd live in squalor;
For nothing, it seems, can appal her.
A whole weary week,
They were kept fat and sleek,
And she spent on their food just a

Our muscles are expanding,
We are losing all our charms.
Just see us lift the heavy weights
With Herculean arms.
'Tis not the Gym that does it,
Nor athletic basket ball,
Oh, it's pumping with the seat arms
In our Recitation Hall.

A SLUMBER SONG.

(With Apologies to '99.)

The corridor gong had just struck ten, Sh! Sh! Sh! And peaceful stillness had come again, Sh! Sh! Sh!

When the sound of voices loud and bold Broke on the ear and the blood ran cold At the awful tale those accents told.

Oh, Sh! Sh! Sh!

For the ruler of gods and the ruler of men, Sh! Sh! Sh!

Were talking together after ten! Sh! Sh! Sh!

And the Senior parlor was bright with gas,
Things had come to a dreadful pass,
How were the mighty fallen, alas!
Oh, Sh! Sh! Sh!

On went the voices clear and gay, Sh! Sh! Sh!

Though the hours wore speeding away, Sh! Sh! Sh!

And sleep deserted the corridor; Could mortal patience endure much more? Who would go and say at the door, Oh, Sh! Sh! Sh!

But at last 'tis ended, and down the hall
Thump, thump, thump,

The talkers pass to the joy of all, Thump, thump, thump,

And now as the echoes die away, Composing themselves as best they may In an injured chorus the suff'rers say, Oh, Sh! Sh! Sh!

BLOCK NOTES.

Will you three girls knock over the "Engaged" as soon as you smell fudges?

Don't stop for your books on your way. They are here.

Is this the room where old clothes are received for the box? I left a roll on the trunk. Hope you can use them.

You needn't think that I am a storage bureau for your clothes.

I was requested to ask you if you would write about six lines or so about Mr. Young, who lectured here Sunday night, for Miscellany.

Phebe expects her mother this soon and says not to fix the room, but I think you'd better.

Did not die from first apple, so took another.

Have you got the waist to the white slip you wore in the last act?

Throw something at me, if you want to. I've been a target for missiles all morning long, and if you're not particular as to what you throw, would you mind making it the red suit, which one of the committee says she must have. I'm that penitest.

I took your Knight Errant. Do you mind?

Lou says, 70, her number is to draw our firewall. Won't one of you go to Mrs. K. if she calls for 70. I exchanged 25 for 70 with Lon.

My Bible has not come. Are you going to use yours this afternoon? If not, may I have it? I thought it might be interesting reading.

I took James Lane Allen for vacation. If you want him again, all right.

Mary says she will make it all right with you. Thanks for the hammer.

If you are all so busily "engaged" why do you hang out of the window all the time? "The first families" never ansounce their "engagements" in such bare-faced fashion, nor converse with beloved persons in such audible tones. P. S.—Will you come over and go to town with me after luncheon.

Basket-ball the 7th instead of history. (Official notice.)

Do you remember address of your dressmaker?

Meet me at the ledge for the 13:34 car.

Alice, can you go down and stand in the mail line at 10:30, 3'd hour. Sarah's there now.

Here is Psyc. I couldn't stand it.

Please wake me'up at seven /// Don't mind snarling. Absolutely necessary that I should get up !!

ECHOES FROM THE CLASS-ROOM.

PROFESSOR OF ECONOMICS—What is labor?

M. M. F. (after deliberation)—Labor is —— is anything a man does that he doesn't want to do.

Instructor in German-Machen Sie ein Satz mit dem Worte "Heja".

FRESHMAN (excitedly)—Heja! Da ist ein Mann!

PROFESSOR OF HISTORY—And for whom was Rhode Island named? STUDENT (who reads the paper)—For Cecil Rhodes, of course.

IN THE CHEMISTRY LABORATORY—But Professor, how do you test a gas for an odor?

PROFESSOR (of cannibalistic turn)—"Now the unproductive consumption of children ——"

ELEVATOR BOY (as A. H. S. steps into the elevator)—Too many in the elevator.

A. H. S.—Nonsense, there are only ten!

ELEVATOR BOY-It's not the number, its the heft, I'm considering.

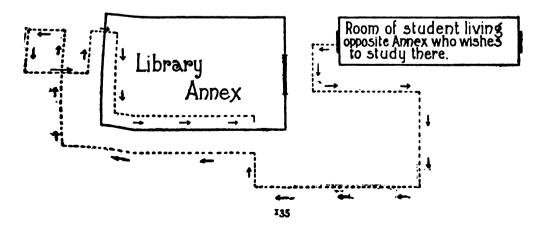

Oh, pray who are these spruce young blades, Arrayed in fashion's height? Identify them if you can— You'll never guess aright.

Between recitations don't try to cash checks,

No result in the world could be sadder.

They enter your name in some twenty large books—
And "there's nothing so deaf as an adder."

Catalogues, samples and rules for self-measurement will be sent on application.

Tiffany & Co.

Gold and Silver Smiths.

The past year was marked by two events, of interest to us—of advantage to our patrons.

It witnessed the rounding out of sixty years devoted to raising the standard of American products in artistic gold and silverware, and the completion of our new manufacturing plant with over 200,000 square feet of floor space to further promote this end.

With the advantage of ripe experience, improved appliances, and largely increased facilities in every department, we constantly demonstrate that superior workmanship and originality of design, do not necessarily conflict with the accepted ideas of popular prices.

ISAAC B. POTTER, Chief Consul N. Y. State L. A. W. and President Brooklyn Bicycle Club, writes:

"My desire to render a substantial favor to the Wheelmen of America impels me to say a good word for Salva-cea. For that lameness of muscles which comes to the moderate rider whenever he attempts a long day's run, I have found nothing to be compared with it; while for sprains and bruises its curative and soothing effects are really magical. I heartily recommend it."

Chafings and Sore Muscles can't last over night if you use

Salva-cea.

It takes away at once all the pain and stiffness. A little Salva-cea, after a hard day's work or walk or ride, will put you into shape in short order. For Soreness, Strained or Overworked Muscles, the easing of Stiff Joints, Sunburn, and the Bites and Stings of Insects, nothing compares with Salva-cea.

It relieves pain;

Subdues Inflammation;

Allays Irritation.

THIS BEAUTIFUL PICTURE FREE

TO USERS OF

B. T. BABBITT'S Best Soap and 1776 Soap Powder.

B. T. BABBITT'S BEST SOAP is noted for its purity and quality. Hundreds of soap manufacturers have tried for years to discover the process by which it is made, but all have met with signal failure.

No soap ever made has the same washing powers. Millions of families, mechanics, railroad engineers, railroad men will attest to this fact. Do not be misled by low grade grease soaps that are dangerous to health, and which will not do one half the work.

This soap has a clean, pleasant odor, and is valuable for the kitchen, laundry and bath-room, as well as for other family uses. It removes stains of oil, paint, tar, grease, and dirt from woolens and cotton goods, or from plain, colored, black, brown, or blue silks, and from highly colored kid gloves. It is a superior soap on shipboard, and is adapted to all climates, leaving the hands soft and agreeable.

This illustration is a reduced reproduction of a beautiful panel picure, size 14x28 inches, of which we have a series of over two hundred, on which there is no printed advertising matter of any kind.

I will send any one of these pictures, FREE, upon receipt of 25 trade marks cut from the wrappers of B. T. Babbit's BEST SOAP, or Ten trade marks from the packages of B. T. Babbit's 1776 Soap Powder. A complete catalogue will be sent upon application.

COLLEGE HILL.

The School which is now located at Riverview was organized and established in 1836 on College Hill, and known as the Poughkeepsic Collegiate School. In the Spring of 1867 the change of location was made, the school marching in a body from College Hill to Riverview.

MAIN BUILDING.

The Instructors, nine of whom are residents, are men of experience in their department.

Military Drill is in charge of an officer of the regular army (detailed by the Secretary of War).

The Buildings of the School are beautifully situated on high ground, overlooking the Hudson. Careful attention has been given to drainage, lighting and ventilation. It is a family school; every boy comes in daily contact with the Principal and his family.

Religious Instruction is given by the Assistant Pastor of one of the City Churches, As Chaplain of the School, he meets every student and has a personal interest in him.

A girl there was, and she studied all night
(Even as you and I),
Of the law and the will and the standard of right,
We thought that she secretly liked a fight,
But the "profs"—they thought her a student bright,
(Even as you and I).

Oh! the books she read—both Hume and Mill,
And the endless things she discussed,
This girl who thought she could will to will,
Although we knew she but once could will,
And could not be nonplussed.

This girl by her logic was led astray
(Even as you and I).

When she happened to mention in class, one day,
That the world was progressing in just the right way,
But "Prexie" at this did say, "nay, nay!"
(Even as you and I).

And it isn't the law, and it isn't the drill

That hurts her in Ethics class,

It's coming to know that the world is bad still,

It's coming to know she but once can will,

And beyond that cannot pass.

Webster's International Best

The One Great Standard Authority, Dictionary. So writes Hon. D. J. Brewer, Justice U. S. Supreme Court.

IT IS THE BEST FOR TEACHERS AND SCHOOLS, BECAUSE

Words are easily found. Pronunciation is easily ascertained. Meanings are easily learned. The growth of words easily traced, and because excellence of quality rather than superfinity of quantity characterizes its every department. It is thoroughly reliable.

Hon. Charles R. Skinner, State Superintendent of Public Instruction of New York, says:—The International is easily king among books, and royally gives for the asking just the information needed and just enough of it. We should be a better educated people if a copy of this work could be placed in every home and school library in the land.
